Louise wrote a review Dec 6 Surbiton, UK 13 useful voices 3 user experience ever, the roughest waitress alive called Kiera First in, everything is sanitised and everything in Covid check, which is amazing to see. You like this, but you are not yet welcome at 8:35 p.m., it is given which should be of use to you: We went with four adults and one 12-year-old. When walking to order drinks drinks stated that it can not be used in cash and can not order at the checkout, which was lined with visor, so we were a little confused to explain why we could not order and it is not on the site or to state that it is completely cashless now. In any case, we downloaded the app and when we do, so asks you to register twice, which took a total of 15 minutes and the app is just awful and super slow. The room was quite small and quite small. My app really doesn't work and I asked staff member Kiera why it didn't work and if we could just order and pay a card (it's still cashless as it had a cash register) because it was really time-consuming and still didn't work. She literally tied us up and called us to be patient. How rude! The app doesn't work. I asked you to pay and order alternatively, and my whole party is barked at by this girl, who eventually passed away because she couldn't accommodate us. When she left, she called us names, so I'd like something to be done about it. You ruined the whole experience. Then, after a total of about 45mins, they finally managed to order the app with the help of a man who was pleasant and apologetic about a rude employee who clearly hates his job and should be fired. I would not recommend hot chocolate, as it is only water with a spoonful of powder and is cold and weak. It tastes like water and it wasn't fizzy. It's just an awful horrible experience and I'd like an answer please, as this is not the way staff should treat customers for no good reason. Kira should have an attitude check and maybe a little more training on how to be polite and work with human beings, rather than barking at us like dogs. ... The course was not very difficult, a mix of difficulties, but it can be a little too simple for adults, but in general good fun. The downside was that in the adolescents/bushes there were quite a few bottles and broken glass and when carrying a ball can be dangerous.
